

POPE JOHN XXIII SCHOOL 9 YEAR ASSESSMENT DATA TERRA NOVA MDNP* SUMMARY FOR 1999 TO 2007

A nine year summary for reading and math of the MDNP scores shows that we are consistently above average in all our scores with seventh graders having the top scores. There are students each year in the 99% across the board in every grade in every subject area. This is a testament to our strong academic curriculum and our excellent teachers!

*MDNP is the median nation percentile score. It represents the middle distribution of the students' scores, where half of the scores are above and half are below the given score. Nationally standardized tests like the TERRA NOVA are designed so that 50 is the median score for the majority, 68%, of the population taking the test.
